To whom it may concern,

It has been a very positive experience working together with Gilberto Lacchia. He responded quickly and in a courteous manner to every request and delivered the final project well before the deadline. He has translated a technical manual about medical devices for me and has proven to be very familiar with the terminology and the subject matter. What makes him an even more valuable translator is that he has a degree and actual work experience in the medical field. The proofreader's comment to Gilberto Lacchia's translation was that he enjoyed the way it was translated, and that it was very professional.

From my experience, I can say that Gilberto Lacchia is a reliable and competent translator. He is an expert in the medical field, and I would recommend him to anybody who needs an accurate and professional translation of a technical medical text.

Sincerely,

Fabian M. Waldner
